Dear Andrea

I would like to add the following to my statement and my husband's.

This is a big site for wildlife you can't decide to build on part of it and expect the rest of it to be fine.

This site has been colonised by many many species of plants and animals for decades and still is.

In no world is building on such an important wildlife site going to improve it for wildlife.

This site provides huge benefits for the people of Colchester.

When it's gone it's gone forever.

Kind regards and thank you.
